

The following Memorandum is on the Support School. Memo for DDCI, Approved For Release 2002/01/23 : CIA-RDP78-06365A000300020075-6

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Subj. Establishment of Support School in the Office of Training, dated 2 Feb. 1966

From DTR. Approved by DCI on 25 Feb. The rationale for this is as follows:

In OTR there is an individual school for each area except for Support/Administration.

That is, for Clandestine Operations, national intelligence, international communism, and language. The establishment of the Support Services ~~xx~~ Course, as part of the Support <sup>career</sup> ~~Service~~ training program acted as a catalyst for the thought for bringing together in one faculty other training activities such as clerical and management training, the finance and logistics course, etc. This establishment would also result in emphasizing the increasing importance of the Support role ~~xxxx~~ within OTR as well as in the Agency as a whole. It should also result in more centralized administration and in more effective instruction. It can be accomplished with minimum dis-arrangement of present personnel and responsibilities. No additional ceiling or staffing positions needed, <sup>No</sup> ~~Though~~ additional funds or office space.

During FY 65, [REDACTED] employees were enrolled in internal support courses. So it looks 25X9A2
